PERSONAL STATEMENT

My passion for design had started way before I attended Emily Carr University. After graduating from Interaction Design major, I found myself completely drawn into UX/UI design. This is where I want to pursue as my life-long career.

I have worked on a couple of projects with school and startups. I learned much from them. All the experience I have to give me the confidence to work with other professionals in the industry and take up all kinds of creative challenges.

Why don't we work cooperatively? Go further down to see why I am the one you need to hire!
